

Does Your Project Generate Trash?

If your project generates waste that needs hauling:

- use a City-approved hauler,
- understand hauler rates and services,
- minimize costs by recycling, and
- know subcontractor "cans and cannots."

Approved Haulers: The City of San Diego has a type of franchise system for commercial waste hauling described in San Diego municipal Code Section 66.0101 et seq. Therefore, it is unlawful for a business to haul commercial waste without a franchise or use a non-franchised company. Failure to comply with this code section can result in civil or criminal prosecution. All projects that generate waste that needs hauling must use a franchised commercial waste hauler from the list to the right.

Rates and Services: The City of San Diego does not set the rates that haulers charge their customers, but does provide a list of all franchised haulers so customers can inquire about service. Take the time to research and review each franchised hauler's prices and choose the one that meets a project's particular service needs.

Minimize Costs: Recycling at a construction site may reduce costs and is good for the environment. To learn about recycling opportunities call the Environmental Services Department at (858) 694-7000, or visit www.sandiego.gov/environmental-services. Non-exclusive franchise haulers are required to make recycling programs available or to provide information about area recyclable material collectors.

Subcontractor "Cans and Cannots: Subcontractors can self-haul waste that their subcontract work generates, but cannot haul for another contractor on the job site. That means that not even one piece of another subcontractor's material can be placed in a bin that is not their own. Subcontractors may NOT mix waste with other subcontractors for purposes of disposal.
